

FROM THE ADMINISTRATORS DESK

Given the long established Maltese and Italian connection at St. Elizabeth, I thought these statistics might be of interest. Unfortunately, they highlight a problem for all of us.

The company that makes Huggies Diapers (for babies) is pulling out of Southern Europe, but the maker of Depends (for us older people) is expanding its market. How come? Southern Europe is in demographic free fall. Every year there are more deaths than births. Every year there are fewer babies and more of us retiring...until we rest in peace. Southern Europe is like Japan; every year its population shrinks, because deaths far outnumber births. Sorry to be the bearer of bad news, but stayed tuned.

Italy diminishes between 600,000 to 800,000 each year. Greece is also collapsing. In 2016, for every 1000 Greeks in the country, 8.5 children were born and 11 adults died. The Greeks are filling more coffins than cradles. Spain shrinks by 75 every day of the year. Portugal's birth rate fell 14% from 2008 to 2012. (In 2016 Canada's seniors outnumbered the youth who were 14 years of age and under – for the first time in our Northern Neighbor's history.)

This is what the sexual revolution, the pill, “shacking-up”, and wide-spread contraception has wrought. In 1968 Paul Erlich authored the alarmist best seller, The Population Bomb. It predicted over-population havoc for all the countries of the developed West. The supposed bomb fizzled; it was fake science. 50 years after the book's appearance we can see clearly what actually happened. Far from a population explosion, the old Mediterranean civilization which we all so dearly admired and loved is falling apart, greying and decaying...without enough children.

What are we to do in the future? Why not obey the first commandment given by God to Adam and Eve: “Be fruitful and multiply” (Genesis 1:28). Over the last 50 years, most of us would agree that modern people have done things “My Way” when it comes to having babies. Let us hope that in the future we might convince

Archdiocesan Appeal

“How are we doing?” The assessment assigned to St. Elizabeth parish in 2017 is $48,470. Thanks to our generous parishioners $17,942 has been pledged as of May 1st. Eight months remain for us to retire the balance of $30,528. As soon as the Archdiocese sends an updated list of parish donors, a mailing will go out to St. Elizabeth parishioners who may yet want to help us in this important effort. When Fr. Suan returns from his sabbatical in July, I would be happy to tell him that at least 50% of the total debt, i.e. $24,000 has been retired. Thanks, Fr. Garcia.
