Fatima Saints

Did you ever think that Glenn Beck – the once-Catholic, now Mormon political conservative and radio talk-show host – would be interested in the “Secret of Fatima”? I didn’t either! But there he was, just two weeks ago, talking to his national audience about how President Ronald Reagan, St. John Paul II, and “the Virgin of the Rosary” (Our Lady of Fatima) brought down world Communism!

There’s no doubt that the events which occurred at Fatima, Portugal one hundred years ago have had unsuspected political effects. But the 7 apparitions of the Virgin Mary also occasioned great holiness among the three children-visionaries. Lúcia dos Santos is the best known of the three. She has written her recollections of the events several times. She lived to be 98 years old and died in 2005, having spent most of her life as a Carmelite nun.

Francisco and Jacinta Martos, the other two child-visionaries, were cousins of Lúcia. They quickly internalized the message of Fatima despite their young age. After the apparitions of Mary they continued to tend the family sheep, but prayed the rosary daily and were known to give their lunch to beggars. On hot days they refrained from drinking water. This was how they offered up their daily crosses, as the Virgin had counseled, making reparation to Her Immaculate Heart.

Francisco and Jacinta died very early in life, victims of the Spanish influenza pandemic. He succumbed at age 10 – just two years after the visions – in 1919. Jacinta deteriorated over time dying at age 9 in 1920. St. John Paul II beatified them both in 2000; Pope Francis canonized the two child-saints a week ago.

The Vatican-approved miracle which won their beatification was the case of Felipe Moura Marques. This little boy was born with type 1 diabetes, a disease considered incurable. His mother and grandmother had great devotion to Francisco and Jacinta so they took baby Felipe to the Fatima Shrine and placed him near the tombs of the two visionaries, asking their intercession. On May 13, 2000, while watching St John Paul beatify the two, Felipe’s mother prayed again to Francisco and Jacinta for the health of their son. Since that time, Felipe has not needed to take insulin and has been completely cured of diabetes.

The miracle for their canonization was the case of Lucas Yurie; it happened in March 2013. The five-year-old boy accidentally fell 20 feet from a window of the family home. “His head hit the ground first and he sustained a very serious injury, which caused a loss of brain tissue” said his father, Batista, during the press conference at the Fatima Shrine. When we finally got Lucas to the hospital in Parana, Brazil my son was in a deep coma. His heart stopped twice, and doctors performed an emergency operation. We began to pray and called upon our Carmelite nun-friends; they went directly to their chapel where relics of both Blesseds Francisco and Jacinta were venerated. The nuns invoked these young ‘shepherds’ to intercede for our little son, who in many ways was like them. Against all medical expectations on March 11 our son was released from ICU and in a couple of days was back home with us...recovered and talking as before. The doctors called it a miracle!”

Dear parishioners, answer our Lady of Fatima’s request for prayer and penance. Plan to start the “Five First Saturdays of the Month” this coming June ’17. Be ready for the 100th Anniversary of the Feast and Archbishop Cordileone’s consecration of the Archdiocese to the Immaculate Heart of Mary in October, 2017. The conditions are: every month 1) Sacramental Confession, 2) Receive Holy Communion, 3) Pray 5 decades of the Rosary, 4) plus keep Our Lady company for 15 minutes more meditating on the mysteries of her life, 5) with the intention of making reparation to Her Immaculate Heart.
